ATREYA MANASWI - SAVE THE BEES Discussion Questions

Atreya said his initial attempts to research honeybees were “outlandish,” but he didn’t let that stop him. What ideas or dreams do you have that may seem too big or too bold to accomplish?

A friend’s grandfather inspired Atreya to begin his work with honeybees. Who in your life inspires you, and why?

Atreya worked closely with a professional researcher to learn more about the scientific process. What resources are available in your school or city to help you learn something new?

What problems or issues are you passionate about in your own community? What could be the first step in addressing those issues?

Why are honeybees so important? Why can commercial pesticides be dangerous?
